Assignment CSA-I

- Describe a complex system of your choice, answer the following questions:
  - Describe the system, its environment, and boundary
  - What are the different kinds of system variables and their domains.
  - What are typical questions the system analyst might be interested in when analysing the system
  - What type of system simulation could be used to analyse this system
- Write about 2 DIN A4 pages in het Nederlands or English
- Hand in your answer in the next lecture as a hardcopy, including student number and name
- Working in pairs is possible.